In the last weak, we made the fight, shop and inventory section more complete; we added random items for the human enemy; we colored the text; we also determined the game process randomly and we did the final cleaning of the code.